WMG Master's Programmes at Eastern Mediterranean University

The University of Warwick

The University of Warwick is one of the UK's top universities (ranked no. 5 in the UK in the Guardian's 2012-2013 UK League Table). The university was ranked 50th in the world (QS 2012)

WMG (Warwick Manufacturing Group)

Warwick Manufacturing Group was founded in 1980 by Kumar Bhattacharyya within The University of Warwick to develop collaboration between the education and research sectors and industry. As a reward for his outstanding work in this regard, he became, in 2004, 'Lord Bhattacharyya'.

A major aspect of the work of WMG has been the development of educational programmes, including a full suite of full-time masters' programmes. WMG has a number of overseas centers, including, since 2011, Eastern Mediterranean University, Cyprus.

Eastern Mediterranean University

First established in 1979, Eastern Mediterranean University is achieving a growing reputation for delivery of high quality English-medium education. With a population of some 14,000 students from around 70 different countries, the university prides itself on its international identity and outlook.

Located just outside the astonishing medieval city of Famagusta, and just a short distance from the coast, the university offers modern facilities, a wide-range of accommodation, and all the advantages of the climate and relaxed and hospitable life-style of the Mediterranean.

The Role of the WMG Overseas Centre

The role of WMG Overseas Centres is to provide regional delivery of the WMG programme; there is no distinction between centers; all students are registered as Warwick WMG students, and are awarded WMG degrees on the basis of successful completion of the Warwick program in question.

All students receive an identical degree, and all students are fully entitled to attend the University of Warwick graduation ceremony in the UK on successful completion of the programme.

EMU thus provides an excellent alternative for students to gain a prestigious UK degree in a beautiful part of the world.

WMG MSc Programmes available at EMU

The following Warwick WMG programmes are currently offered at the EMU Centre:

- ✓ MSc in Engineering Business Management
- ✓ MSc in Supply Chain and Logistics Management

Entrance Qualifications for WMG MSc Programmes

You will have completed an undergraduate degree in engineering, information technology, business or other relevant discipline. Other disciplines may also be considered if you have a proven level of numeracy and / or relevant work experience.

You should have a minimum CGPA of 2.5 or second class honours degree.

English language requirements

WMG set an official IELTS entry threshold of 6.5, or equivalent. Students with slightly lower scores may be eligible for conditional acceptance to the programme, through the PG Award, Certificate or Diploma tracks.

The course demands a lot of writing and modules are highly interactive. EMU therefore provides an ongoing programme of language and study skills support for all WMG students.

Students who have not yet attained the qualifications for automatic entry may also be able to enter the one-semester Eastern Mediterranean University Certificate in English Language and Management Skills programme, which has been approved by WMG as a feeder course to the MSc.

How long does the WMG MSc Programme take to complete?

The full MSc programme comprises nine modules and a project, and full-time students are expected to complete all programme requirements in one calendar year. Students registering part-time on the programme have a maximum of three years to complete programme requirements.

The pre-MSc EMU Certificate programme takes an additional 12 weeks to complete.

Is this a 'joint programme?'

No, the programme is delivered entirely by The University of Warwick WMG. Eastern Mediterranean University does however offer exemptions on its own programmes for students who have successfully completed WMG modules; some students take advantage of this to complete two master's degrees within a 24-30 month period.

How is the course delivered and by who by?

Each module comprises one week of intensive full-day instruction to be followed by a 4000-5000 word assignment to be completed within 6 weeks of the end of the module. The nine assignments count for 50% of the overall course grade.

The project which you start work on at the beginning of the course is approximately 15,000-20,000 words. The project counts for 50% of the final grade for the MSc.

The modules are delivered jointly by WMG staff who come to EMU for the intensive week along with specialists at EMU. You will also have a project and course supervisor at EMU.

What are the modules?

Both programmes have the same modules; the major difference between the two programmes will be in the project area you select. The current modules are as follows:

- Logistics and Operations Management
- Supply Chain and Logistics Management
- Product Design and Development Management
- Quality Management and Techniques
- Procurement and Inventory Management
- Operations Strategy for Industry
- Financial Analysis and Controls Systems
- Project Planning Control and Management
- Organizations, People and Performance

Non-credit classes and workshops include:

- Programme orientation
- Research methods and study skills
- Academic writing
- Academic presentation skills

Can we take modules at other WMG Centres?

As part of your course fee you are entitled to take two modules in another WMG Centre, including the UK Centre, at no extra cost; you would of course be responsible for any extra expenses occurred (e.g. transportation, visas, accommodation etc.)

Attendance

WMG maintains very high standards in this regard. Full attendance is required and expected.

Enrolment

The programme normally begins in September, but it is possible to enroll as a part-time student at other times of the year.

Is it possible to attend part of the programme?

Successful completion of 3 modules entitles you to a WMG Postgraduate Award.

Successful completion of 6 modules entitles you to a WMG Postgraduate Certificate.

Successful completion of 6 modules and project entitles you to a WMG Postgraduate Diploma

Registration for individual modules is also possible, dependent on qualifications and space.

Applying for a WMG Course at EMU

1. Complete the online application form at <http://warwick.emu.edu.tr>.
2. Prepare your supporting documents.

These must include:

i) A one page 'Statement of Intention'. This statement should describe:

- Why you want to take the course you are applying for
- How you hope to benefit
- Any relevant background academic or work experience

The statement should be written in formal English and carefully checked.

ii) Two academic references

iii) A copy of your first degree and transcripts, and any relevant postgraduate qualifications.

iv) Proof of English language competence – i.e. IELTS / TOEFL (not required from EMU graduates, or students from English-speaking countries, such as Nigeria)

Copy / Scan these documents into one neatly arranged MS Word file; Make sure your full name is at the top of the document, along with the title of the course you are applying for.

e-mail this file to the EMU-WMG office : warwick.emu@emu.edu.tr

3. The completed application is then sent to Warwick University WMG, UK for evaluation.

Eastern Mediterranean University Postgraduate Certificate in English Language and Management Skills

What is the Certificate Programme?

The English Language and Management Skills Certificate Programme has been approved by WMG as a feeder or foundation programme for the University of Warwick WMG MSc programme. It can also be taken as an independent or supplementary qualification on either a full-time or part-time basis.

What is the Certificate Programme?

You will have completed an undergraduate degree. You should normally have a minimum CGPA of 2.3 or second class honours degree, and a proven level of English at IELTS 6.0 level (EMU English Language Proficiency 60%); relevant work experience will also be taken into consideration in your application

How long does the Certificate Programme take to complete?

The full certificate programme comprises six modules, and it is possible to complete it in 12 weeks, i.e. in one academic semester.

What are the modules?

The certificate comprises six modules:

- English for IELTS
- Advanced Academic Writing
- Academic Presentation Skills
- WMG Research Methods and Study Skills
- WMG Context of a Business
- Project Module

Is it possible to attend part of the programme?

Yes; if you satisfy entrance requirements, modules can be taken on an individual or part-time basis.

When can we enrol for the programme?

Our main intakes for full-time programmes are in September, February and June.

How is the certificate awarded?

The programme has an integrated assessment system, requiring you to:

- a) achieve 6.5 on IELTS or 92 on TOEFL iBT
- b) produce 2 x 4000 word assignments that are marked at EMU and moderated by WMG
- c) give a 15-20 minute presentation on a research topic.

Are there any exemptions from modules?

- a) A 6.5 IELTS or 92 TOEFL iBT exempts you from the IELTS programme.
- b) You will be exempted from the Research Methods and Study Skills Course if you have taken an equivalent postgraduate course in an English medium institution.
- c) EMU ENGL 523 and ENGL 525 are equivalent postgraduate English courses at EMU and count towards the award of the certificate.

How do we apply?

Follow the same procedures as for MSc applications (above).

Other Options for English Language Preparation

As an international language examination centre, for many of the world's top English language qualifications, EMU's School of Foreign Languages offers both one semester and two semester programmes of English language study for both undergraduate and postgraduate students. Depending on initial qualifications, you may also be able to combine your English language study with relevant courses at the graduate level in EMU's Faculty of Business and Economics (<http://fbe.emu.edu.tr>)
